GMA ally's firm probed

Senators demand inquiry into Monte Oro coal project

By Christine G. Arendano

THE SENATE ENVIRONMENT and blue ribbon committees have been asked to investigate how a businessman close to President Macapagal-Arroyo was able to bag a project to extract P6.2-billion worth of coal in Catanduanes without public consultation.

Sen. Ana Gardoña "Bambi" Madrigal, who chairs the Senate environment committee, filed yesterday a resolution seeking the investigation of the Department of Energy's awarding of a coal mining contract to Monte Oro Resources & Energy Inc. without consulting the public.

Madrigal said she would join the Catholic Church and other environmental groups in opposing the awarding of 7,000 hectares of land for exploration to Monte Oro, which she said amounted to "irrevocable acquisition."

Other senators—Benito Lacson, Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Pimentel Jr.—also intend that the Senate step in and investigate the matter.

But Senate President Juan Ponce Enrile said that he could

The company issued the statement amid a campaign launched by the Catholic Church, local government officials and civil society to

The role of Razon assets has been described as the biggest privatization in Philippine history.

By Jeremio Aring and TJ Bugarin

TAKING MALACANANG BY SURPRISE, former President Fidel Ramos yesterday announced that he had declined his designation by President Macapagal-Arroyo as chair member of the ruling Lakas-Kampi-CMD.

Ramos contended that the "so-called merger" of Lakas-Christians, Muslim Democrats and Kabisuklan ng Malayang Pilipinas (Kampi) was not valid. He also said the new parties had entered into a "marriage that has yet to be officially and legally consummated"—a reference to the pending registration of the merged party with the Commission on Elections.

"There may be no child yet at this point," Ramos told reporters at the Ninoy Aquino International Airport while he awaited a flight to Bangkok.

"It is an entity that is trying to be born into the world, but it must be under the auspices of Ramos also lambasted the absence of consultations with the members of the Lakas national directorate regarding the new party's bylaws and draft constitution.

He distributed copies of his letter to his Arroyo dated Aug. 17.

Chiz: GMA can help me by backing nearest rival

By Philip C. Salazar

IF EVER, THE "BIGGEST HELP" that President Macapagal-Arroyo can give him is her endorsement of his "nearest rival," according to Sen. Francisco "Chiz" Escudero.

Speaking at a town hall meeting at Valle Verde subdivision in Pasig City on Monday night, Escudero said he would not seek the endorsement of his Arroyo who, he claimed, had made the corruption during Joseph Estrada's administration worse. "Elementary."

Escudero—a member of the Nationalist People's Coalition who, along with Sen. Loren Legarda, is being considered as a standard-bearer—denied that he had secretly asked his Arroyo to endorse his presidential run in 2010. He also dismissed suggestions that her endorsement would back his candidacy. "They are claiming that I'm GMA's secret candidate, but if it's secret, why is it that all of you know about it?" said the senator, who has yet to formally announce his intention to seek the presidency next year.

Duque retreats: 'OK DOH-K' no longer OK

By Gene Paalagan

THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH will no longer be using the phrase "OK DOH-K" which a Manila court has banned, saying it was being used to promote the unethical candidacy in 2007 of Health Secretary Duque III.

Duque signed to drop the phrase which was trademarked after he assumed office in 2005. "That is not important anyway as far as the information is concerned," said health undersecretary Mercedes Padilla.

Manila Judge Marcelo de la Cruz has ordered Duque to explain why he should not be disqualified for contempt after full-page ads came out in at least three broadsheets last Saturday, Aug. 15, the start of the price control regime for certain medicines.

In 2008 last just the day before, Duque issued a temporary restraining order stopping Duque from using public funds to pay for DOH advertisements that carry the slogan "OK DOH-K, OK in Kalingas?" OK in Kalingas? OK in Kalingas? OK in Kalingas?"

The full-page ads that came out on Aug. 15 were titled "Volunteering Freedom from High Cost of Medicines" and carried the slogan.

The ad listed 21 essential medicines under price control and under voluntary price reduction and their corresponding maximum drug retail prices. Lawyer Esteban Francisco Jr., who had petitioned the court for the ban, questioned the use of public funds by some Cabinet officials to pay for advertisements "designed to promote themselves or their candidates for public office."

Padilla said the department's lawyers would explain to the court as the scheduled hearing today that the ads had covered key hospitals that already been placed before Duque ordered that the slogan be followed from all ads last Friday.

Padilla also said the Department of Health would not contest the temporary restraining order.

"We will still put our ads on TV," he said.

Last week, Cabinet officials were announced in a Senate hearing investigating the rampant use of government funds are seen as overly compensating.

BFAD gets more teeth, is now FDA

By TJ Burgin

A LAW DRAFTING MORE REGULATIONS under the Bureau of Food and Drugs (BFAD) and renaming it as the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) was started yesterday.

President Benigno Aquino signed the public law 9711, or the Food and Drug Administration Act of 2009, before lawmakers and government officials in Manila yesterday.

The law boosts the regulatory capacity of the FDA by mandating the establishment of adequate testing laboratories and field offices, upgrading its equipment and personnel, and authorizing the agency to create income.

In essence, it complements the Duque Memorandum Law, according to Health Secretary Francisco Duque III.

"Dream come true"

"This is a dream come true. This has been the missing link in so far as the delivery and provision of quality medicines and health products is concerned," Duque told reporters after the ceremonial signing.

RA 9711 is a consolidation of Senate Bill 3460 and House Bill 3393.

The strength lay in the revision of separate control for every major product category for a more efficient regulation of the manufacturing, importation, export, distribution, sale, among others, of any product, according to Duque.

That's why, there will be a center for drug regulation and research, a center for food regulation and research, center for consumer regulation and research, and center for device regulation, substances, health and research.

"The products under these different centers will be regulated by the FDA in terms of their importation, export, manufacturing, distribution, advertising, marketing, all the processes in the manufacture of these products," Duque said.

RA 9711 also mandates the setting up of modern and complete testing laboratory facilities in Luzon, Visayas and Mindanao to allow local registration of products, apart from the existing laboratory at the FDA's laboratory office.

There may be further increase, it said.

Teodoro: No Ramadan break vs Abu Sayyaf

Coming up: 2 long weekends

By John S. Alcala
Aspirer Mindanao

LEBANON CITY—THERE WILL be no Ramadan break in the government's offensive against the Abu Sayyaf.

"That's dead end," Defense Secretary Gilmore Teodoro told top military commanders here yesterday.

"It should be done before the election as it will increase another problem. These terrorists don't care about Ramadan," Teodoro said in Filipino.

Ramadan, the holy month of Islam, is a time of fasting, reflection and other service, mostly from dawn to dusk.

He said there was no other option but to annihilate the Islamic group and other armed elements supporting the Abu Sayyaf Group.

"There is only one way to do this—through a sustained military operation," Teodoro said, adding that it would be conducted "while engaging the community with development works and care."

Major Gen. Benito Dotalillo, chief of the Western Mindanao Command, said taking on the Abu Sayyaf would require a different strategy.

"We will not employ a conventional type of tactics. We will annihilate them by engaging prominent leaders and commanders of the ASG. Once annihilated, the war will end," Teodoro said.

Teodoro, now on his fourth visit here, clarified that his presence had nothing to do with his political ambitions.

He said he came to Mindanao to oversee the landing program implemented by the Department of Social Welfare Development (DSWD) presented in Tigo-tipo town.

Together with DSWD personnel, Teodoro went to the Malinao Post of Naval Base Pampanga Mindanao where Philippine Navy personnel were landing sacks of rice intended for displaced families.

Social Welfare Deputy Regional Director Pamela Arevalo said there were 1,200 families displaced from five villages in Tigo-tipo.

"We are bringing in supplies good for two weeks," Arevalo said.

Tigo-tipo Mayor Ling Isamat said most of the evacuees were staying with families and friends.

"They are afraid to return to their hometowns because they fear another movement," he said.

Aside from monitoring the situation of the evacuees, Teodoro said he was also looking into allegations of lapses in the military operations that left 23 soldiers dead.

CANT WAIT TO TAKE A BREAK? THERE are two long weekends ahead.

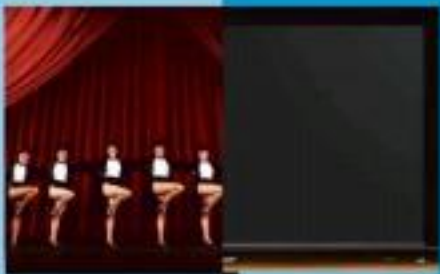

Under Wednesday's calendar of holidays in 2009, Friday, Aug. 21, marks the 25th anniversary of the proclamation of the late Sen. Benigno "Ninoy" Aquino Jr., and is a special non-working day.

The weekend after that is another long weekend with Monday, Aug. 31, having been declared a regular holiday in observance of the National Heroes Day.

The list of regular holidays and special non-working days this year is contained in Proclamation No. 1699 issued by President Macapagal-Arroyo in December 2008.

Ex-Sokor President Kim Dae-jung dies; 85

Kim Dae-jung (left) and North Korean leader Kim Jong-il (right) shake hands during their historic summit in Pyongyang on June 15, 2000.

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA—FORMER PRESIDENT KIM DAE-JUNG, who survived assassination attempts during his years as a dissident and won the Nobel Peace Prize for his reconciliation efforts with communist North Korea, died on Tuesday. He was 85.

Kim Dae-jung, who had been hospitalized with pneumonia since last month, died shortly after 1:40 p.m. A spokesperson of Seoul's Hospital Seoul said Kim Dae-jung suffered respiratory distress, a pulmonary embolism and multiple organ failure.

The Nobel laureate's wife, Kim Yoon-ah and six children were at his side at the very end. South Korean leaders, from leaders in his last hour, had been paying their respects for days at the hospital in a rare show of respect toward South Korea's political opposition.

From the decades of South Korean authoritarian rule to democratic rule, Kim Dae-jung was a key figure in South Korea's political landscape. He was a key figure in South Korea's political landscape.

He was the architect of the "Sunshine Policy" of reaching out to communist North Korea as a way to encourage reconciliation.

His efforts were unprecedented in its relations with the North and culminated in a historic North-South summit—the first in the divided peninsula—and a jubilee ceremony in Pyongyang with leader Kim Jong-il in 2000.

His successor, the late President Roh Moo-hyun, institutionalized the Sunshine Policy but Kim Dae-jung saw his work reversed when Lee, a conservative, took office in 2008, and conditioned aid to the North on the regime's commitment to nuclear disarmament. AP

NO-FROST means no frost on the refrigerator to freeze food quickly.

No-frost refrigerator has air shower

By Ruby de Vera
Cebu Office

THERE'S A NEW USE OF NO-FROST refrigerators.

Introduced by Samsung, the no-frost refrigerators are believed to save more electricity. They require less periodic cleaning compared to direct cooling models. No-frost refrigerators also have automatic cooling temperature so they don't require as much energy power them.

Business refrigerators are also seen by people, for they prevent more deterioration caused by frosty layer which contributes to a loss of flavor. Frost freezes more quickly, preserving bacteria from forming between the time the food is in the refrigerator to the time it is in a frozen environment.

The latest line of no-frost refrigerators has air shower, which provides bursts of blowing air from the top and the back of the frozen compartment that freeze food quickly.

Frost lines are evenly coated as the multi-air flow system provides air bursts for each shelf. Cold air moves from the back via separate vents for each shelf space. The cold moves faster in a blast of cold air that prevents water and frost coating in whenever you open the ref.

Fruits and vegetables are also protected by the CoolDown Zone technology. It gives food longer shelf life by maintaining a constant temperature and humidity level. With ordinary refrigerators, items in the dollar compartments get hit by a blast of cold air that contributes to their fast deterioration, especially for leafy vegetables. The CoolDown Zone is a sealed compartment where cold air does not come in direct contact with food items. This prevents moisture from coating out. On higher models, the CoolDown Zone Plus 4 provides a special fan-on top of the compartment that gives fruits and vegetables at least a week more of shelf life.

Multi-system

The Silver Nano BioShield System is a basic feature of all models. Silver nano ions are integrated to the material used for building the inner walls of the refrigerator to reduce the bacteria from food but the walls, they're instantly destroyed. There's also a Silver Nano BioShield which neutralizes unpleasant odors with silver nano particles. There's no need for per-baking inside or oil-soaked inside the refrigerator.

The Evergreen Zone on bigger models is one of the most innovative technologies in preventing the shelf life of fruits and vegetables. It's different from the CoolDown Zone, but it goes a bit further. It

round white arrangement

By Rosanna C. Burgos

THE MOST POPULAR trends in floral styling are Wisteria, Amaryllis, Cherry Blossoms, Vaseage and Garden, says Robert Blazkofsky, who has been in the flower business since 1999.

Winter theme, Blazkofsky (tel. 528-8878, email 2023404) explains, plays with white, silver and sequins. Other colors, contrast pieces usually are only complementary with whites and other white flowers. Accessories include succulents, lighted balls and Christmas trees.

Japanese cherry blossoms in white and pink dominate the Asian theme. For home use, include cherry blossom trees and the basic type of arrangement.

Vaseage uses deep red, purple, gold and foliage. The flower focuses on roundness-type arrangement, then, designs are full of accessories such as lamps, gold containers, lotus petals, brocade patterned items and vases.

Garden plays with trees, landscapes, succulents, flowers and spring items.

"Others have gone 'out of the box' by using flowers and modern as inspiration. The most popular themes are Brunch plays, movies, on rotation, James Bond and Men in Black," Blazkofsky says.

"The good thing about thematic events is that the type of flowers doesn't matter that much except if the client is particular about it. Colors depend on the theme but the more practical clients prefer local flowers."

This year, Blazkofsky adds, browns, red and white remain popular. Bold colors such as orange, yellow, electric blue and green, plus the "season colors" white and red, will dominate the floral styling trend in 2014.

Understated elegance

Despite the new trends in floral styling, there are still a lot of people who go for understated elegance," he says. "And if you want flowers to last longer, choose those that are more hardy."

Blazkofsky utilizes local flowers and imported ones from Holland, Ecuador, Australia and China. The containers for the arrangements are made by his group of artists, carpenters and designers in his shop and office in Hong Kong.

Before Blazkofsky ventured into the floral business, he worked at the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corp. and Citibank in Singapore. "I would always be involved in events. When I was working at Merrill Lynch, it was there I realized my true calling," he says.

"I'm thankful to my corporate upbringing since the values I've learned taught me to persevere in this business."

ability to switch accents depending on who they are talking to. I just marvel at the way they speak with a Chanté American accent when their friends call to check if they can visit and together my wife with a totally life-disappointing style in the very next breath. What is happened the first time, I was too stunned to react. Now I look forward to it with great anticipation.

Is it a regrettable memory?
No, we were watching this Hollywood movie where the daughter was getting married and everyone was crying. My wife and I just started kidding about how when they grow old, they still marry and go away to be the away lands and we won't have anyone to look after us. Our older son piped up and concluded us by saying "Don't worry, when I get married, I will make sure my house is always within walking distance of your house."

Complete. I have a wonderful wife and two beautiful kids. They inspire me to be a hardworking and efficient person.

Are you strict or are you a spoiler?
I would say I am a spoiler...but with boundaries, especially with my old friends.

What's your favorite thing to do with your kids?

In an informative dispatch, the network also says that, on Ben Azupar's request, the station's game show unit led by Robert V. Jones and Marlene Almada were put in charge of the coverage of the proceedings in the Manila Cathedral.

Almeida recalls that the task was "as hard physically as it was emotionally. Before Jerry's coffin arrived at the casket, I sat on top of it, and the team had less than 24 hours to cut up 30 moving tapes and 17 cassettes. We could only see up in bursts. Meetings were scheduled and we did not want to change the church's routine."

As for Vidman, it was a "very personal" undertaking: "Blaine Gray was already special to me even before I got to work with him. I was ... a trustee of Boulder-Idaho National Monument in 1987 and he was very generous to me in the ways overbeyond."
